

Matthew (Matt) Dimas

Matthew (Matt) Dimas has been active in soccer and coaching in the Western New York area for 15 years, having coached a variety of both boys and girls recreational, travel, and indoor teams of various ages. Matt has served on the NYSW Board for the past 4 years contributing first as a District Commissioner, and currently as Second Vice President, Adjudication Chairman, Audit Committee Chair and Parliamentarian. He has served and held office on the Boards of Recreational and Travel clubs in the Southern Tier, has been President of the local Travel League, and continues to serve as the Southern Tier District Registrar. He has been a certified referee for both USSF and High School (NYSPHSAA) for 10 years. Matt is active in the community, in his church, the local YMCA, and in various professional organizations. He and his wife of 28 years, Diana, reside in Jamestown, NY. They have a son and a daughter, both currently in college, who continue to enjoy soccer at different levels. Matt is currently a purchasing manager for a multi-billion dollar automotive systems manufacturer, with a diverse background which also includes process engineering, product engineering, environmental health and safety affairs, and program management totaling 29 years. He earned his Bachelor of Science in Chemical Engineering from Clarkson University in Potsdam, NY, and his MBA from St. Bonaventure University in Allegany, NY. Post-graduate education also included training at the European Center for Continuing Education in Fontainebleau, France.